Analyzing the Poem

The poem 'A Thing of Beauty' employs several literary devices to convey its message.

Imagery

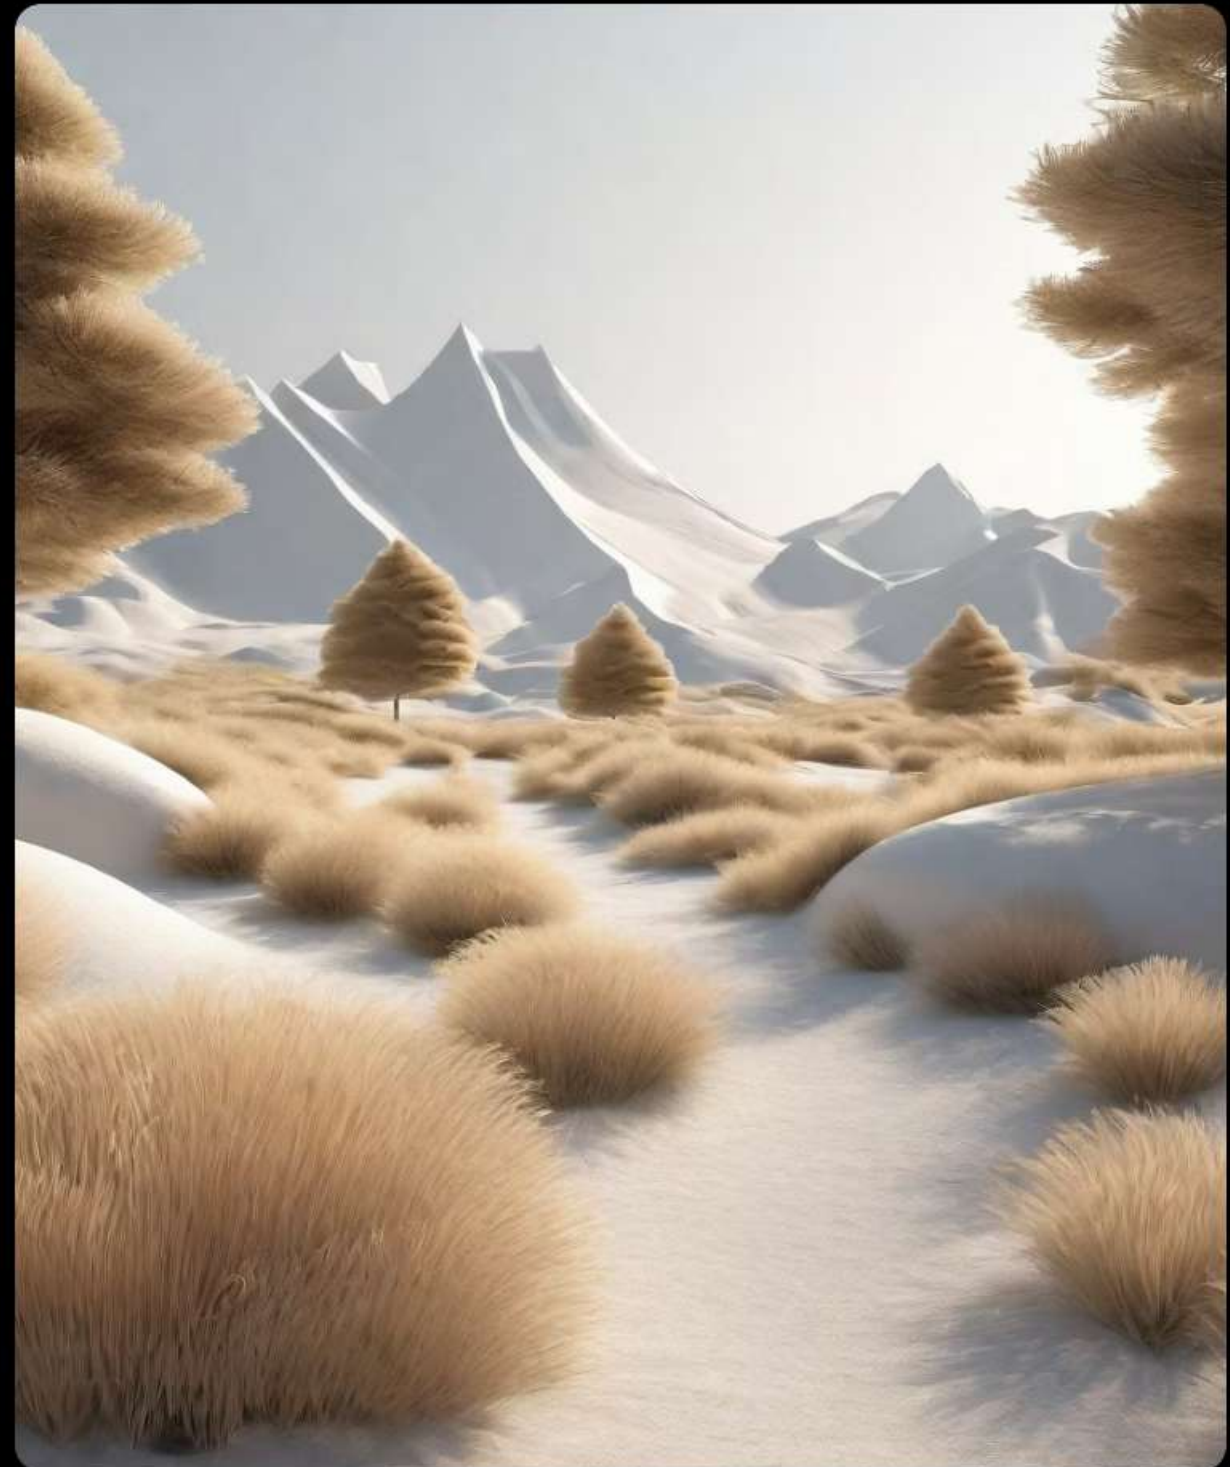

The poet uses vivid imagery to describe the beauty of nature, appealing to the reader's senses.

Metaphor

The poem employs metaphors to compare nature to a 'thing of beauty,' emphasizing its transformative power.

Rhyme Scheme

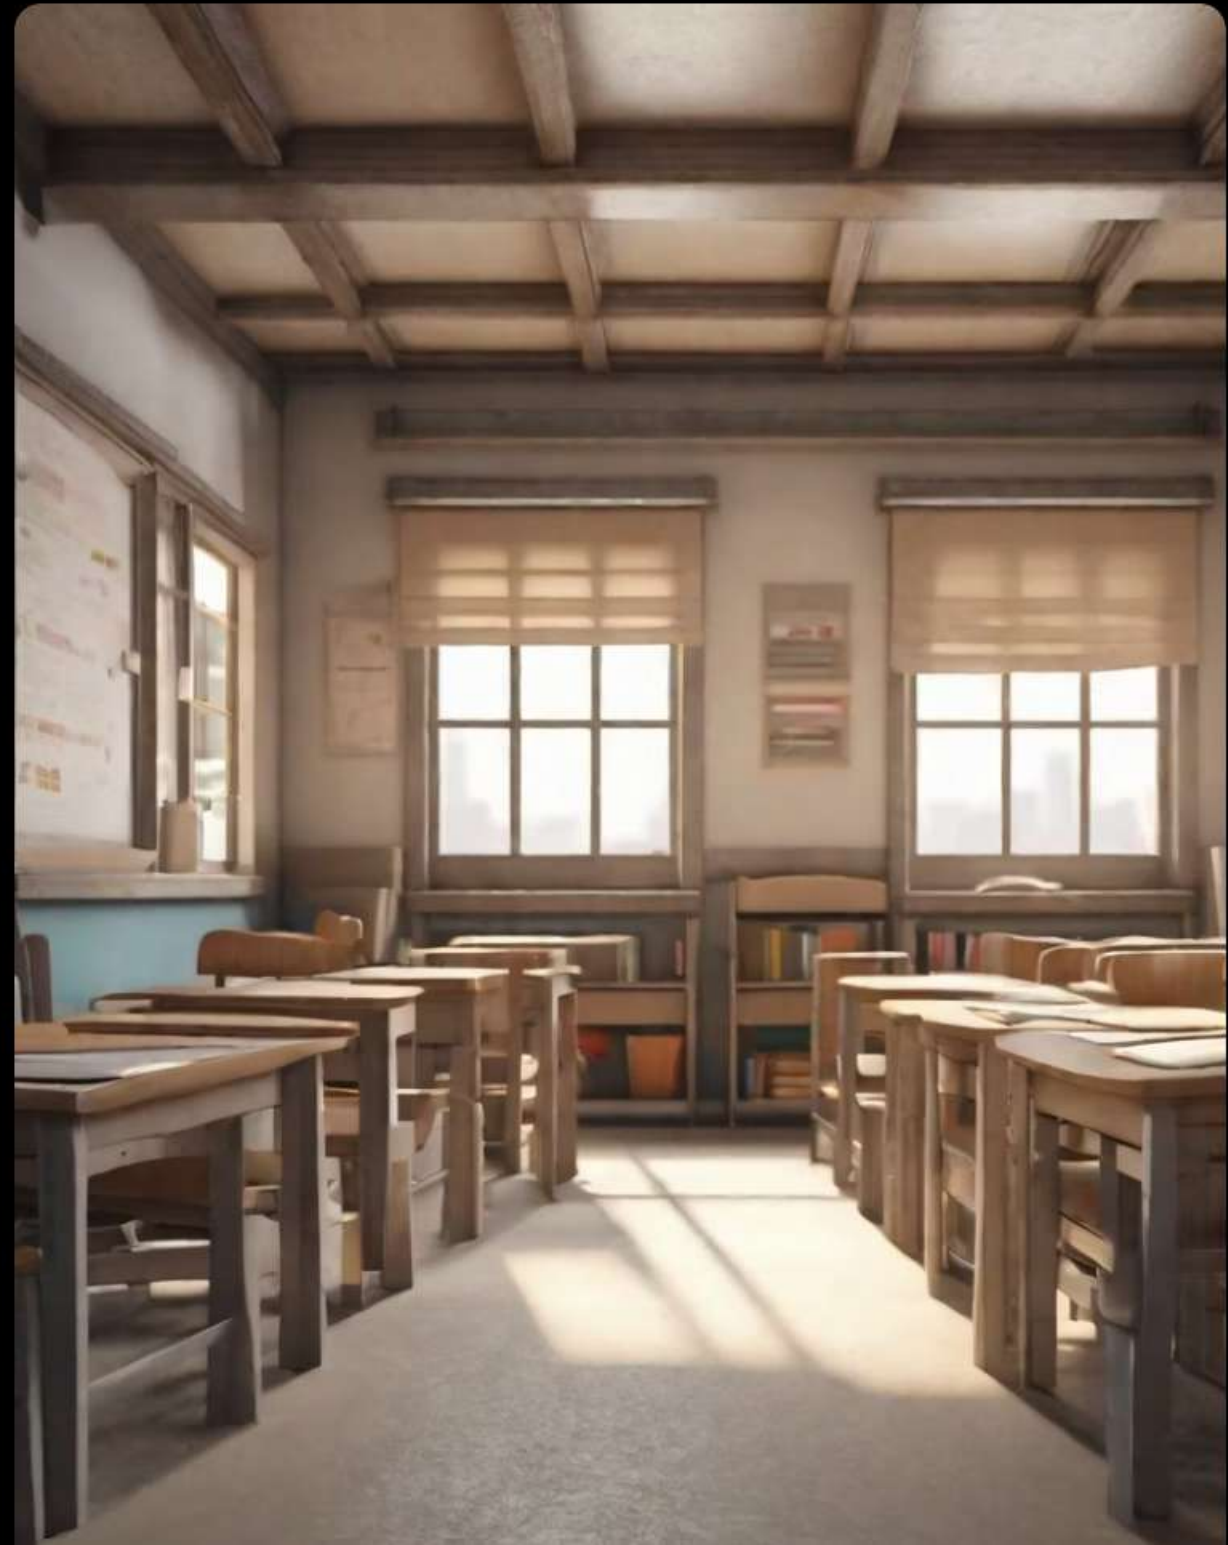

The poem follows an ABAB rhyme scheme, creating a musical quality that enhances its lyrical nature.

An Elementary School Classroom in a Slum

Literary Devices

- Metaphor: The poem uses metaphors to describe the elementary school classroom in a slum, comparing it to a graveyard and a prison.
- Imagery: The poet uses vivid imagery to paint a picture of the poverty and despair in the classroom, highlighting the broken windows, tattered books, and pale, hungry faces of the children.
- Irony: The poem employs irony to criticize the education system and society's neglect of the underprivileged children, contrasting the potential and dreams of the children with their harsh reality.
- Repetition: The poet uses repetition of phrases like 'far far from gusty waves' and 'far far from revelling crowds' to emphasize the isolation and deprivation experienced by the children.

Aunt Jennifer's Tigers

Analysis of Literary Devices

The poem 'Aunt Jennifer's Tigers' by Adrienne Rich employs several literary devices to convey its themes and messages.

Symbolism

One of the key literary devices used in the poem is symbolism. Aunt Jennifer's tigers symbolize her aspirations for freedom and empowerment. The tigers represent her desire to break free from societal constraints and assert her individuality.

Imagery

Another literary device employed in the poem is imagery. Rich uses vivid imagery to depict Aunt Jennifer's creation of the tigers through her needlework. The imagery of the tigers' prancing and their bright, fearless eyes helps to create a powerful visual representation of Aunt Jennifer's inner strength and resilience.

Keeping Quiet

Analysis

The poem 'Keeping Quiet' employs several literary devices to convey its message.

Imagery

The poet uses vivid imagery to paint a picture of stillness and introspection.

Metaphor

The poem employs metaphor to compare silence to a tree and the act of keeping quiet to planting seeds.
